It is concerning but not surprising that our discussions are the subject of gossip by officials and colleagues

I just got this from Yasir. Good morning, Zita! I wonder if there is a 'national security' provision/tool we could use to either take matters in our own hands or assist Ottawa Police in a major way to end this occupation. For almost three weeks big trucks (including a crane) are parked in front of Parliament of Canada and PMO/PCO. These trucks pose a serious security threat, as they can be weaponized. It will take one bad actor to set something off. We can't be naive about these things that it cannot happen. I hope we are considering all tools at our disposal, especially rooted in national security, to take this more seriously. As I said in the caucus, this cannot carry on into a third weekend.
